Dear Mr. Co:

We welcome your interest in offering your company's services in the condemnation of confiscated meat of the Bureau of Customs. Please be informed, however, that all condemnation activities by the Bureau is at no cost to the government and that the accredited contractor is the one who shoulders all expenses relative to condemnation (from the transfer of goods to the contractors facility to the return of the containers to the shipping lines, etc.).

Also, the accreditation of contractors is in on a per port basis. In this regard, we have forwarded your application to the ports concerned for their appropriate action.

Thank you.
